Clean House

During house cleaning, organize and dispose of trash. Some of it may be saved and used again by the thrifty housewife who has space to keep it. Some may be given away or sold for salvage. Collect the rest and discard it promptly. In many kitchens a drawer or rack may hold paper, bags, wrapping paper and string. Jars and glasses that can be used for home canning can be packed in boxes until they are needed. Put in a convenient place all boxes and bottles that can be returned. Old magazines may be passed on regularly to hospitals, recreation centers or other institutions in need of reading matter. Papers, cartons of old clothes and rags may be turned in for salvage. Arrange a place for different groups of salvage materials in order to keep the house clean and free from fire hazards. Keep garbage tightly covered and it as soon as possible.

Garden Seeding

Garden specialists advise adjusting the depth of planting to the soil. In heavy soil, plant shallow, in light sandy soil, plant deeper. The idea in this is to plant the seed just deep enough so the soil around it will keep moist. If the seed's too deep, it may be slow in germinating, or some of the sprouts may not push through. And if you plant the seed too shallow, it may wash out, or dry out before it germinates. A good way to plant small seeds is to draw the end of the rake or hoe handle through the soil to make a row. Have the soil fine and smooth and free from clods, trash and stones. To plant larger seeds, make a row an inch deep or deeper with the corner of the hoe. Try to get your row a uniform depth, otherwise you'll get an irregular stand of plants.

Weatherproof Glue

A new type weatherproof and waterproof glue, 30 per cent cheaper and with superior binding strength, has been developed by the department of agriculture's northern regional research laboratory at Peoria, Ill. The glue is made by combining by-products materials, soybean meal or corn gluten, with a special preparation of water-soluble phenolic resin. Its discovery by Glen E. Babcock and Allan K. Smith makes plywood practical for many exterior uses in which the old plywoods would fail. In all tests the glue has stood up under outdoor weather conditions longer than the plywood it held together, and has been successful on a commercial basis in a large Wisconsin plywood mill where it has been used for two years. Plywood made with this glue passes the three-hour boiling test with surplus strength, and in addition, the glue line is not attacked by molds which often happens with the older type glues.

Skyline Baseball League Starts This Week-end

National Home Demonstration Club Week

OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL HOME DEMONSTRATION WEEK MAY 5-12, 1946

May 5 to 12 has been designated as National Home Demonstration Week. The theme is: "Home Demonstration Club Women Build Toward Better Home Life and World." The slogan is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

Eight objectives have been listed as follows:

1. To acquaint as many women as possible with home demonstration work.
2. To encourage a wider participation of rural families in home demonstration programs.
3. To highlight the benefits rural women have obtained through participation in club activities.
4. To recognize the contributions made by rura women who serve as leaders in club work.
5. To obtain the support and cooperation of other rural women's organizations in the promotion of home demonstration work.
6. To explain the organization of clubs so that new communities and counties will know how and where to get information on forming new clubs.
7. To acquaint everyone with the value of county and state home demonstration organizations, and benefits to be gained through them.
8. To bring the National Home Demonstration Council to the attention of non-member states.

Home demonstration work is a part of the national system of extension work in agriculture and home economics carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture, the State College of Agriculture, and the counties cooperating. The headquarters are located at the the State Agricultural College of VPI, Blacksburg, Va. The county extension agents are the local representatives of the State College of Agriculture and the USDA.

In 1945 there were 1,386 clubs with 31,117 club members (white). In addition there were 273 home demonstration clubs with 4,984 members (negro).

In Appomattox County there are 13 organized home demonstration clubs, with a membership of 236 women; 9 4-H Clubs with 164 girls and 100 boys. The organization emphasizes food production and conservation, also a study of consumer problems, planning and wise spending. One outstanding factor has been the training of voluntary leaders and their services to the communities in which they live.

HARRY F. BYRD

As a result of announcement by Martin A. Hutchinson, Richmond attorney and political liberal, that he will oppose Senator Byrd in the August Democratic primary for nomination to the United States Senate, there has been a flurry of poll tax payments in an effort to qualify voters. May 4 is the deadline for paying poll taxes.

Hutchinson's announcement will give Virginia its first Senatorial primary contest in nearly a quarter of a century. Hutchinson has long been a critic of Byrd leadership, but he served as Secretary of the Commonwealth while Byrd was Governor, and is a former secretary of the State Democratic Central Committee.

Appomattox County has long been a stronghold of the Byrd organization, and little difficulty is anticipated in carrying this county and district for him by a very large majority.

Those who wish to vote in the primary should check on payment of their poll taxes not later than Saturday.

Co. Teachers Meet Tuesday

C. Eddins, Mrs. John K. Hamilton, Mrs. J. K. Lawson, Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, Miss Mabel Wilkes, Mrs. Ophelia Martin, Miss Aldah Barlow, Patsy Boyd, Barbara Spatz, Beulah White, Bobby Jamerson. State funds for public assistance in Appomatox County for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1946 have been reduced by nearly $2,000.00 over the previous year. Since the Federal government matches the state and local appropriation on a percentage basis the Federal money will also be reduced. The total budget will be reduced by approximately $4,000.00. The Federal government contributes 50%, the state 31 1-4% and the locality 18 3-4% for old age assistance, aid to blind and aid to dependent children. The budget is being reduced because the General Assembly did not appropriate sufficient funds to continue at the present rate of expenditures.

As a result of this reduction in funds, monthly assistance to the aged, the dependent children and physically handicapped will be cut beginning July 1st. The Welfare Department assists only those persons who are in need and unable to work, including the aged, the blind, dependent children and physically handicapped. Beginning the first of July, funds will be limited to such an extent that new applicants may be granted assistance only when present recipients are removed from the public assistance rolls.

There has been a decided increase in the number of applications for Old Age Assistance during the past few months. This is attributed partly to the fact that many family allowances from relatives in the armed services have been discontinued, in some instances the high cost of living has made it impossible for relatives to support persons other than their own immediate families. Increased living expenses have also made the needs of all recipients greater.

—F. A. O'Brien, Chairman, Welfare Board.

Senior Class Activities

The Senior Class of A. H. S. is very busy these days with various activities preparatory to graduation.

On May 22, the Senior class will present, "Another Spring," a three act play. The cast of ten has been selected and is now rehearsing.

Class artists have been busy on colorful posters, several of which may already have been seen about town. Other committees are at work on stage properties and advertising.

Committees have been appointed and are already at work on plans for the Senior party, the theme of which will be "Moonlight and Roses." The red rose is the class flower.

The Class of '46 has decided to have a class reunion five years from now, in 1951.

Uncle Sam Says

At this time of year, we hunger for the sight of green sprouts and the promise of a plentiful fall crop. Like my nephew, Farmer Sam, I know John's seeds produce golden corn we all love. John is also putting financial seeds in the form of United States Savings Bonds grow to golden dollars. Every city worker also has a chance to help nurture these seeds.
